

This branch is changing – we are moving to a new location and changing the services that we provide

Our new Warwick University branch opens on Monday 11 September 2017

Reasons for the change, and alternative ways to bank

This branch is changing – we are moving to a new location and changing the services that we provide

This first booklet will help you understand why we've made the decision to re-locate this branch and replace the manned counter with fully automated services for your everyday banking. It also sets out the alternative banking services and support that will be available to you after the changes.

In a second booklet, which will be available from the branch prior to the changes, or online at home.barclays/ukbranchclosures, we'll share concerns and feedback from the local community as a result of the replacement of the manned counter service with self service facilities. We'll also detail how we will be helping people transition to using the services at the new branch or to using alternative ways to carry out their banking requirements.

Here are the main reasons why we are making changes to the Warwick University branch:

- An opportunity has arisen to move to a new site on the University campus to provide our latest banking technology in a fresh, modern environment
- The number of counter transactions has gone down in the previous 12 months, and additionally 96% of our branch customers also use other ways to do their banking such as online and by telephone
- Customers using other ways to do their banking has increased by 16% since 2012
- In the past 12 months, 32% of this branch's customers have been using neighbouring branches
- We've identified that only three regular customers use this branch exclusively for their banking.

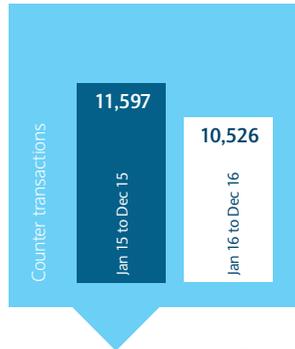

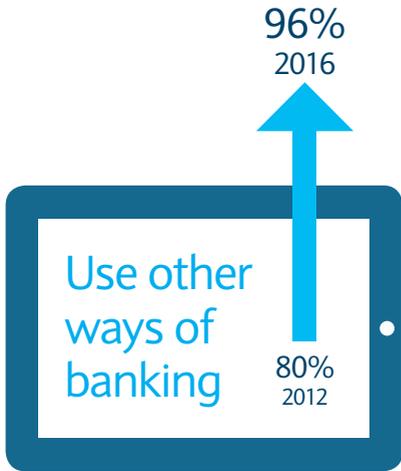

Proposals to re-locate and change the services available at any branch are made by the Barclays local leadership teams and verified at a national level ahead of any public announcement. If you have any questions and concerns about these changes then please feel free to get in touch with Chris Payne, your Community Banking Director for West Midlands and Warwickshire.

How this branch is used

Before we make the decision to re-locate and change the services available at any branch, we think carefully about how it has been used so far. We consider how many customers have been visiting, what kind of transactions they've been making, and all the other ways they've been choosing to bank with us. We also take into consideration the availability of other branches in the wider community.
